

100 Worlds to the Inner Cosmos

No one can successfully overcome the lack of self-confidence, depression, bottled up anger, addictions, anxieties, or other destructive behavior created in life, until learning to be the Master of Oneself. In 100 Worlds to the Inner Cosmos, Dr. Jinsei shares with you the answers she has discovered in the ancient Buddhist scriptures known as the Lotus Sutra. Her innovative style in composing this book has not only made it informative and creative, but also, inspirational and entertaining. It will help you grasp the details and application of the secrets of Ichinen Sanzen, which can open and change your life, allowing you to succeed in all your endeavors so you can achieve a positive self-transformation and joyful reality. Psychologists agree personal happiness is a function of the context in which the world is perceived and internalized. Dr. Jinsei utilizes real life examples to present a philosophical framework for understanding ten major emotional tendencies and operational personality types, plus 100 subtypes, that one encounters in the world. This book lends the reader, through a self-analysis framework, control and power over ones life and the freedom and joy that can bring. Dr. Jeffrey Dean Maddux, Professor Schiller International University Juna Jinsei, Ph.D., author of YES; You Can Make It Happen, is the founder of the World Wholeness Healing Center, where she works alongside other professional natural healers as an instructor and Pastoral Counseling Psychologist. She has been counseling and teaching people around the globe for over thirty years with her lectures and proven healing techniques. She has created and produced over forty audio books and holistic healing CDs to help eliminate personal suffering while aiding in changing the negative vicious cycles that people unknowingly fall into and allow to control their lives. Juna has spent her entire life pursuing the best means to enable people to achieve self-transformation so they can gain the wisdom, personal power, and control necessary to liberate themselves from their own self-made shackles and live happily with complete peace of mind.
