

You are preserved for a purpose: Walking in Purpose...Fulfilling Destiny

Our lives have a purpose and a meaning. Our very existence is not an accident of procreation neither did we come to the earth to simply exist. God clearly says that He has a plan for our lives, a plan to give us a hope and a future (Jeremiah 29:11) and His wishes and desire are for us to have His best. In her latest book Yemisi Ashimolowo shows that irrespective of ones background, every person has a God given destiny and purpose. Life may have caused you to question your very existence. You may lack the necessary education, you may have been abused, or experienced tragedy. Some may have been rejected for simply not fitting in. But whatever may have happened, God has kept you. With the help of this invaluable work, you can start your journey of discovery today and realise that no matter the circumstances you were preserved for a purpose.
