

Two Years Away: Our Journey of Travel, Homeschooling, and Life

What would happen if you took your kids out of school, bought an RV, and made a commitment to travel for two years? With absolutely no experience in home schooling or RVing and with a what's the worst that could happen mentality . . . That is exactly what the Halter family did. You will laugh, learn, and maybe be inspired by the many memories they created during their Two Years Away. The stories are mostly told by the two children, Ryan and Kylie, through their daily journal with bits of wisdom contributed by Mom and Dad. Although the journey began in the US, it ultimately included Australia, New Zealand, and French Polynesia.
